One Bay, two Biloxi firms vie for school architect job

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District Board has called a special meeting for 7 p.m. Monday to select an architect for a long-range building program.

The architectural firm will be chosen from three finalists selected at an Oct. 6 meeting. Those three include Fred Wagner of Bay St. Louis and two Biloxi firms, Compton and Bolton and Fountain and Lamas.

The three were selected from a field of 14 architectural firms whose representatives made presentations to the board Sept. 29.

The five board members used a secret ballot on which each member wrote the names of three firms.

Compton and Bolton finished first with five votes, Wagner finished second with four and Fountain and Lamas finished third with three.

Three other firms were named in the voting but received only one vote each. They included Michael Reeves of Bay St. Louis; J. Mykolyk and Associates of Pass Christian; and Thomas A. H. Jeeb of Pascagoula.

Remaining firms that had applied for the job included Robert D. Ladner of Long Beach; Eskew, Vogt, Salvato and Filson, and Leonard A. Collins, both of Biloxi; Shaw and Walker, Dunn and Randall and Don D. Leopard, all of Gulfport; Maginnis and Gallagher of New Orleans, La.; and Virden, Alexander and LaCoste of Jackson.

School district officials are presently working on a survey that will help to determine what needs must be covered by the building program.

The board originally voted to move ahead on selection of an architect in September after hearing administrators from each school report on the number of students enrolled. All four schools and one off-campus operation, St. Rose de Lima Fifth Grade Center, are now operating at capacity or over the capacity for which the buildings are designed.

UNDER CONTROL—Bay St. Louis City workers fasten a clamp around an 18-inch sewer force main near the Bay St. Louis-Waveland line Saturday in an attempt to control a leak caused when a firm installing a telephone cable severed the line on Wednesday. According to Bay St. Louis Mayor Victor Franciewicz Jr., the line leads from the city collection system to the Bay sewerage lagoon and handles about 600,000 gallons per day. Sewerage was temporarily being pumped into a pit left years ago by the construction of the railroad tracks along Central Avenue. Franciewicz declared the situation an emergency because of potential threat to life and property and said precautions have been taken to contain the untreated sewerage and protect oyster beds. Completion of repairs was expected Saturday if no additional leaks are found along the line, the mayor added. The project is under supervision of City Public Works Director Norbert Redmond and Field Construction Supervisor Buddy Zimmerman. (Staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

General orientation session on community education planned

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Overcoming the public's image of a traditional school is just one of the hurdles being tackled to establish a community education program in the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District.

Superintendent Roger Oge wants to open the schools to the community.

"Basically a traditional school as we have now only serves children in kindergarten through the 12th grade but a community school involved in community education serves all ages," Oge said in an interview Friday.

A traditional school is open only six to seven hours a day, five days a week and nine months a year, he said.

"I want the Bay-Waveland schools to be community schools open 12-18 hours a day, seven days a week and 12 months a year if needed," Oge added.

Community education emphasizes enlarged service for public education and greatly enhances improvements of the individual and community, he continued.

"Basically, community education will create a school-based setting which will allow recreational, social and cultural activities for all the people of the Bay St. Louis and Waveland area," Oge added.

Oge believes the community education program will figure largely in his efforts to bring the schools and the community together.

"Just as parents and teachers must work together to guarantee academic achievement for children, the schools and community must join together if the resources of our community will ever be utilized to serve its needs," he continued.

The public schools are funded by the public and must serve not only the young people but people of all ages, he stated.

Oge says everyone in the Bay-Waveland area he has spoken with relative the community education program is in favor of its establishment.

"People are excited over the prospect of the program and are asking why it hasn't been started before," he said.

Oge also said he has met with various representatives of potential funding agencies including the school board, cities and county governments and private businesses.

"I believe once the people are completely aware of the fantastic potential of this program, funding will be absolutely no problem," he added.

With the assistance of the agency representatives, Oge is currently working to identify key community leaders to present a general orientation session on community education.

"Simultaneously, I am also pulling together a task force both to assist with the orientation session and to generally coordinate the development of the program," he said.

"A dedicated, supportive public will be required to see such a program finally brought into full operation," Oge added.

If things progress at a rapid pace in the development of the program, a coordinator may be hired in time for special training in November, he said.

Escaped prisoner returns voluntarily

BY DENA BISNETTE

A fifth prisoner who escaped from the Hancock County Jail about three weeks ago has returned voluntarily.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson said Saturday that escapee Danny Ray Powell had telephoned Sheriff's Department Investigator Alvin Ladner from Jefferson Parish, La., Friday, saying he wanted to turn himself in to Hancock County authorities.

"He said he was tired of running but he didn't want to turn himself in over there," Peterson said.

The sheriff said Powell took a Greyhound bus to Bay St. Louis and arrived about 1 a.m. Saturday. He was walking down the road toward the jail when he spotted a Bay St. Louis Police officer, flagged the patrolman down and surrendered to him.

Powell is now awaiting a transfer to the State Penitentiary at Parchman.

He had been serving a sentence on a burglary charge when he escaped from the Hancock County Jail with five other prisoners.

Four of those others have already been returned to custody. The remaining prisoner still at large is Richard Mayne, who was serving a grand larceny charge. He and Powell were awaiting transfer to the Regimented Inmate Discipline Program at Parchman.

The prisoners escaped by sawing through the bars in the window of their second-floor cell. The bars have since been welded back into place.

High court rules in favor of Echo in Prescott suit

The Supreme Court of Mississippi on Wednesday upheld a Hancock County Circuit Court's decision in favor of Bay St. Louis Newspapers, Inc., publishers of The Sea Coast Echo, in a $1.5 million libel and invasion of privacy suit brought by a Bay St. Louis man.

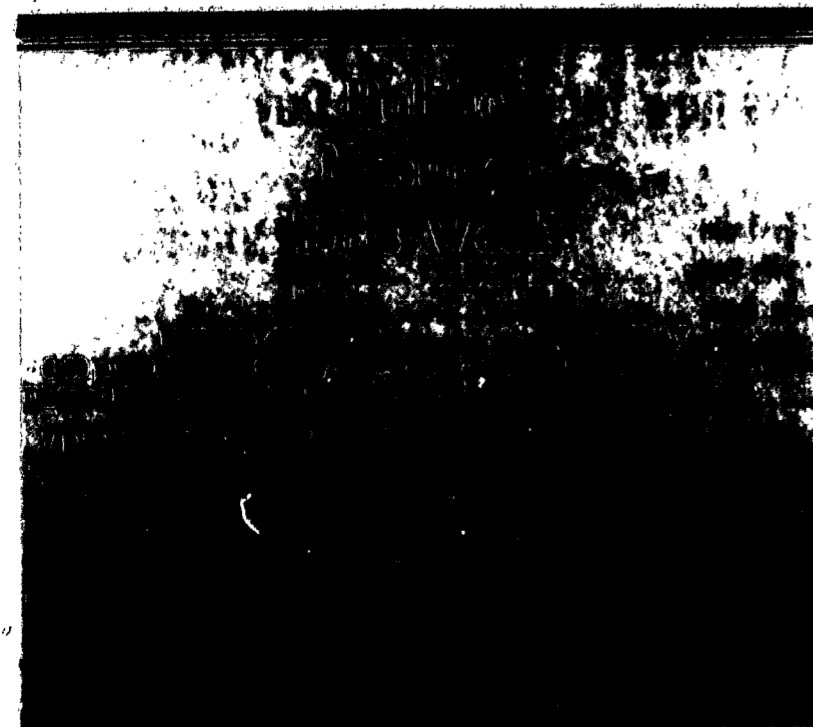

The Supreme Court upheld the lower court's May, 1984 dismissal of the suit against the Echo.

Melvin Alexander Prescott charged the newspaper placed him in a 'false light' by reporting he was charged twice in October 1982 with driving under the influence.

The suit centered on publication of two photographs of a one-car accident involving Prescott in the Oct. 21, 1982 edition of the Echo.

Attorneys Joel Blass and Henry Laird of Mize, Thompson and Blass of Gulfport represented Bay St. Louis Newspapers, Inc. Prescott was represented by attorney John Ellis of Gulfport.

NO SHOW AT PUBLIC HEARING—A Panel of Hancock County Planning Commission officials and building experts were the only people present for Thursday's public hearing on the county building code which will be included on the ballot for the November election. This was the second in a series of public hearings being conducted throughout the county to take suggestions of the proposed building code. The next public hearing will be Tuesday at Gulfview School in Lakeshore. Attending Thursday's hearing were, from left, Don Murray, county building inspector; Fred Roth, contractor; Woodrow Ladner, planning commissioner; John Scallie, commission attorney; Ronald Ferrell, planning expert; Anthony Northing, hearing and appeals officer; Charles Johnson, contractor; Jay March, county engineer; and Bob Smith, commissioner. ## ETV produces volunteer reading tutor workshop

In response to significant needs in the state, Mississippi ETV is producing a special program designed to help volunteers learn to teach adults to read. The three-hour program, featuring Cheryl Shannon, literacy coordinator, Continuing Education, Meridian Junior College, will air at 2 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 25, on Mississippi ETV.

The program will follow the general format of the tutor workshops presented throughout the state. In the program Ms. Shannon will actually be conducting a workshop with tutor volunteers.

Divided into three one-hour segments, the program will offer prospective volunteer tutors important information. The first hour will be on awareness by first offering an introduction by Eloise Johnson, state literacy coordinator with the State Department of Education.

United Methodist ministers called to statewide convocation

JACKSON—United Methodist ministers from Mississippi will gather at Galloway Memorial United Methodist Church Oct. 28 for a Convocation on Discipleship in response to a call from Bishop Robert C. Morgan, resident United Methodist bishop in the state.

A denominational leader in discipleship and a bishop who has written a best-selling book on church membership growth are to be the principal leaders for the convocation.

Dr. Ezra Earl Jones, general secretary of the United Methodist Board of Discipleship, Nashville, will be present to address the gathering, and to lead in workshop settings.

Bishop Richard B. Wilke, United Methodist bishop in Arkansas, and author of "And Are We Yet Alive? The Future of the United Methodist Church," will speak twice during the day.

Bishop Wilke's book, published in April, presents a bold look at the decline in membership and influence of The United Methodist Church since 1962, and offers prescriptions for revitalization. The book sold out its original printing, and is being used widely for local church studies.

The convocation, beginning at 10:30 a.m. and ending at 3:30 p.m., is the first event in state-wide emphasis on discipling being planned for 1987.

A task group representing the two United Methodist Annual Conferences in Mississippi is planning the year-long emphasis.

Bishop Morgan has called all United Methodist pastors and diaconal ministers in Mississippi to the convocation.

Ghosts cavort under full moon at Bay St. Louis Little Theatre

By EDGAR H. PEREZ
Producer Randolph Bourgeois along with Co-directors Burt Barrett and Mike Hamm have accomplished the seemingly impossible task of staging an entertaining three-act comedy with 11 novice players among a 16-member cast.

The producer-directors team receives invaluable support in the effort from an outstanding performance by 16-year theater veteran Neal Myers Sr. of Pass Christian. Patrons of the joint Krewe of Triton and Bay Little Theatre benefit presentation this week will get more than their money's worth when they see this 16-member collection of characters portrayed at the Boardman Street Playhouse Thursday, Friday or Saturday.

The offering opened Thursday, Oct. 16 for a three day run and continues with three more 8:15 p.m. curtain this weekend. You can't tell the players without a program, and in this case you can't always tell the veterans from the maidens without the play bill. Bourgeois, et al have extracted remarkable performances from almost all of the 11 who are performing on stage for the first time in "Rest Assured."

In addition to Myers, the strength of experience is added to the cast by Lady Carver as Mildred the Maid, Eugene Farve as Luigi, Mike Hamm in a bit part, Lynn Stechmann as Mrs. Schmalz, and Pat Schott as Mrs. Frinck, also a bit part.

Among those making debut appearances, Paula Carter of Bay St. Louis is a standout as Jessica Morlock's youngest daughter who lives in a 'phooey world' until she meets Luigi's ghost.

Meyer's wife Patricia and son Neal Jr. also do well in their first theater performances in this vehicle.

The other newcomers adding zest to the evening at theatre are C. Noel Phillips of Waveland, Joy and Pete Breslin of Pass Christian, Darlene Farve of Bay St. Louis who completes the third husband-wife team in the cast, James Kelly Jr. and Scott Carter, both of Bay St. Louis, and Sue Winter of Pass Christian.

The scenario opens on a confrontation between Luigi and Morlock concerning the wedding plans of Luigi's son Joe (Neal Myers Jr.) and Morlock's daughter Mary (Darlene Farve).

Luigi dies from the excitement but later returns with a mission to haunt Morlock until he abandons his opposition to the union.

But then Morlock also dies and is forced to accept some painful realities about himself and his relationships with family and employees.

"His love went from his family to his money and has been there ever since," he hears from one of his daughters.

In another exchange with his attorney George Plew played by Phillips, Morlock demands, "You are my legal advisor and what have you done for me—nothing."

"That's because you haven't done anything legal yet," Plew retorts.

Eugene Farve as Luigi the meat-cutter is relentless in his pursuit of Morlock the corporate executive, all the while displaying a masterful command of an Italian accent.

First-timer James Kelly Jr. is a roll as the nervous undertaker Mr. Black, especially in presentation of his "Lay Away Plan" to the widow Morlock.

Without revealing any surprises which are linked to the appearance of Pete Breslin as Lucifer, suffice it to say you can depend on a happily-ever-after ending in author Donald Peyton's script.

An open minded acceptance of the fact that human spirits lurk among those of us who remain embodied on the planet will help the theater-goer to enjoy "Rest Assured" all the more.

"Rest Assured" is produced through special arrangement with the Heuer Publishing Company.

Exceeding the number of cast members are backstage crew and production support personnel including set designer Reggie Fayard and decorator Karen Deem. All can be found listed in the complimentary play bill which will be furnished to you upon purchase of your ticket.

Enjoy!

REST ASSURED—Lucifer, left, played by Peter Breslin of Pass Christian, prepares to poke a little fun at leading man Mr. Morlock, played by Neal Myers Sr. of Pass Christian, in the current production of "Rest Assured" by the Krewe of Triton and Bay St. Louis Little Theatre. Mrs. Schmalz, played by Lynn Stechmann of Bay St. Louis, delights in Morlock's impending doom.

Thirteen additional layers join this trio in the three-act comedy which opened at the Boardman Playhouse Thursday and continues this week at 8:15 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Proceeds from ticket sales benefit Triton and the Little Theatre. (Photo by Jimmy Letacane)

Quotables by CUEVAS 99

There was a large turnout for the Change of Command on Wednesday for the Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant at the National Space Technology Laboratories.

We wish Lt. Col. R.W. Bregard, U.S. Army, well in his new assignment, as we know he did an outstanding job at the Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant during the past two years.

We feel assured Lt. Col. Alan D. Catron will continue the fine work at the plant at NSTL.

The facility is one which is needed for America's National Defense. On the other hand, as Major General Fred Hisong Jr., Commanding General, U.S. Army Armanent, Munitions & Chemical Command stated during the command change, it is hoped the weapons manufactured at NSTL will never be needed to defend our nation.

The NSTL plant is operated by Mason Chamberlain Inc.

It was good to see A.A. (Dolph) Kellar, president of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors and also Bay St. Louis Mayor Vic Franckiewicz in attendance for the command change.

Good luck to both Lt. Col. Catron and Lt. Col. Bregard.

Coast Episcopal Schools PTO's are sponsoring an 'Escape' Toast to the Coast on Friday at 519 East Scenic Drive, Pass Christian.

The Gulf Coast Symphony Orchestra will be providing music from 7 to 9 p.m., followed by music by Jerry Fisher & Co. with dancing 'til midnight.

There will be fine foods from some of the Coast's leading restaurants and caterers.

Tickets will be available at the gate with Oct. 25 as the raindate.

Who should pay for community-wide protection?

By Dr. Jack Wimberly
HATTIESBURG—The Mississippi Legislature recently voted to charge $5 for each immunization shot administered at a public health office. On the face of it, this seems reasonable enough in that we ordinarily expect to pay for the things we get, whether it is polio immunity or a jar of jam.

There are, however, significant differences.

The purchaser of the jam gets the full benefit of his purchase. The purchaser of the immunization does not. Immunization of one person may halt the chain reaction tendencies of an infectious disease. The fact that "John" is immune prevents him from becoming infected so he can no longer pass it on to a whole host of friends, relatives, associates and even perfect strangers.

The plagues and fevers that once swept whole continents are no more because the chain has too many missing links. The once-dreaded smallpox has, according to the World Health Organization, been eradicated on the entire planet.

The basic idea is that since society as a whole benefits from such immunization, then society as a whole should pay. However strapped the state may be for funds, charging for immunization shots is about the poorest way of raising money.

Let's hope that this action is reversed in the next session of the Legislature. Measles can have a terrifying effect on the fetus of a pregnant woman. The Legislature should encourage immunization, not discourage it.

JACKSON—Two legislative committees have gone on record in opposition to a proposal of Illinois Central Gulf Railroad to abandon almost 50 miles of ICG track from Hattiesburg to Silver Creek.

A resolution was approved by the Public Utilities Committee of the Mississippi House of Representatives and State Senate urging the Interstate Commerce Commission to deny the petition for abandonment. Copies of the resolution also are being furnished to the Governor's office and members of the state's Congressional delegation.

The resolution follows a recent public hearing at the State Capitol in which strong opposition to the proposed rail abandonment was expressed by Mayor Buford Blount of Bassfield, former Lumberton Mayor Bobby Garraway, and representatives of the Mississippi Legislative Board of the Transportation Union. John H. Doeringer, senior general attorney for ICG, testified in defense of the abandonment.

The proposed abandonment involves a 49.7-mile segment of track serving parts of Lawrence, Jefferson Davis, Lamar, and Forrest counties.

Representative Clifton Holmes of Foxworth and Louis Fortenberry of Pascagoula presided at the hearing.

Holmes and Fortenberry are Chairmen of the House and Senate Public Utilities Committees.

The Legislature has no authority to deny or approve the abandonment, but the Public Utilities Committees can take a stand for or against the proposal. The resolution opposing the abandonment said testimony at the hearing indicates ICG has "pursued a policy of intentionally ignoring the line in question by routing east-west rail traffic northward through Jackson, Mississippi, rather than along the more direct, logical route which the line presents."

In addition, the resolution said there was testimony that absence of local rail service, "will impair future economic prospects in an area of the state which must stimulate its development by attracting industry to provide jobs for residents."

Committee members found the allegations at the hearing "have merit and should be thoroughly investigated by the Interstate Commerce Commission," the resolution added.

Dennis Miller, a staff attorney for the Mississippi Public Service Commission, told legislators the PSC also opposes the proposed abandonment.

BUDGET REQUESTS EXCEED AVAILABLE FUNDS

The Fiscal Management Board recently concluded budget hearings in preparation for the 1987 Legislative session. Throughout these hearings, state agencies have requested more and more money. In fact, at the conclusion of the hearings, we estimated that new money—that is, funds above the present funding level—requested totalled more than $200 million.

These requests do not even include proposals presently pending for a statewide highway funding program.

To me, this points out the increasing need to establish more clear-cut spending priorities in state government. We are still not designating certain areas of state spending as more important needs or services than other areas. Until we establish such priorities, we will continue to see state agencies ask for more and more money.

We have seen the very important agencies cut along with the agencies that are not essential. Likewise, we have witnessed that those agencies get their big share of the budget pie during leaner times.

We at the Fiscal Management Board have tried repeatedly to get agencies to operate under a more based budgeting. This methodology forces them to justify every penny they receive.

Many supporters of state-funded programs, both the essential and the unnecessary, recommend two quick-fix methods for funding everything state agencies want—through tax increases and through increased bonding authority.

Both actions are dangerous approaches to state government when considered as the solution to all our problems. First, tax increases should not be considered lightly. Just as I have said many times over, our citizens pay their fair portion of taxes. We are just now making gains in personal income. If we raise taxes, those gains will be offset by new taxes.

Likewise, bonding authorization without consideration to the impact on future debts of our state is a dangerous oversimplification of the state's indebtedness. Outlining new bonding proposals must be approached cautiously and with serious, expert research and input.

Our budget problems in Mississippi are not over. But we are seeking some recovery through increased sales tax collections. Some state programs are indeed essential for our state and should be given top funding considerations, but a stable economy is also essential to our state's future.

OSTEOARTHRITIS OF THE SPINE

Q. My doctor says I don't go on a diet and get some exercises I'm at risk for osteoarthritis of the spine. Is that the same as "regular arthritis?" How much weight do I have to lose?

A. Osteoarthritis of the spine, sometimes called degenerative osteoarthritis of the spine, is caused by the same factors as those which cause osteoarthritis of any other joint. A more descriptive term might be "wear and tear of the spine."

As a person ages, the spine—along with the other joints—gradually wears out. Spaces between the vertebrae become slightly smaller and lose some of their water content. The cartilage begins to wear out, and spurs—new formations of bone—may develop as joints move thousands of times over a person's lifespan. Those changes cause pain or discomfort at exactly the place on the spine where the degeneration is in progress.

"Arthritis" is not exactly the same as osteoarthritis. It may be caused by disease, injury or broken bones. Osteoarthritis, though it usually affects either the lower (lumbar) spine or the upper (cervical) spine and causes lower back or neck pain, can be confused with similar pains caused by other conditions.

For example, if pain is felt from the lower back down to the leg to the foot, a herniated or "popped" disc is likely—a spinal injury which is entirely different from osteoarthritis.

Certain conditions and lifestyles make osteoarthritis more painful. One such condition is being overweight. A protruding abdomen places more pressure on the back, and causes the condition to develop more quickly and to cause more severe pain.

Like a constantly overloaded car which wears out its tires before their time, people who carry additional weight wear out their spine and other joints more quickly.

Another contributing factor is muscle weakness, especially weak abdominal muscles, which inactive, overweight people tend to have. Other complicating conditions include back surgery, removal of a disc—which is like losing a shock absorber—fractured bones in the spine, or an infection which has settled in the spine.

Pains in the lumbar and cervical regions of the spine can come from pulled muscles or ligaments, or from spasms, but x-rays show such pains in a number of patients from 40 to 60 years old result from osteoarthritis of the spine.

Furthermore, though a worker who does heavy lifting is at risk, a white-collar worker who sits at a desk all day and gets little exercise is, as well.

Treatment for an acute attack of pain is bedrest, anti-inflammatory medication and the application of intermittent heat.

In the milder cases the medication may be sufficient. Physical therapy or an exercise program usually is recommended, and some patients must wear a temporary brace or abdominal support.

The best exercise for the back by far is swimming, followed by walking. For a safe, modified sit-up for the abdominal muscles bend the knees, cross the hands on the chest, pull in stomach muscles, slowly pull up off the floor (about six inches if fine), hold stomach tight for a count of five, and slowly curl back down.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Alabama agriculture commissioner lauds drought relief from Mississippi

October 3, 1986
Editor
The Sea Coast Echo

To Our Friends in Mississippi:

On behalf of the farmers of Alabama, I would like to express our deepest gratitude to all of those in Mississippi who worked to bring the hay harvest gifts to us in our time of need.

We would like also to thank Governor Bill Allain and his office and Commissioner Jim Buck Ross and his staff at the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce for their official assistance with this special relief project and ongoing efforts to keep us informed of everyone's participation in it.

The quickness with which your people responded to our farmers' need for help and the swiftness with which you mobilized such a massive relief campaign showed a compassion that is overwhelming.

This hay has helped our farmers feed their cattle during one of the worst droughts Alabama has ever known. The extraordinary cooperative effort behind your haylift will stand as one of the most remarkable acts of unity this country has ever seen and will serve to remind all Americans of the strength that lies in a neighbor's helping hand.

All those who gave of themselves in this great community-spirited endeavor are to be commended for exemplifying the true meaning of the words, "to love your neighbor as yourself." Your caring has given Alabama's farmers a special gift of strength we can call on again and again, when we need help, and when others need ours.

One of our farmers put it best: "It's hard to believe that people from so far away with their own problems would care enough to try to help us down here. I want them to know it's made us willing to try hard to hang on and to help our neighbors hang on, too, may they be blessed for having shown us such kindness."

Sincerely,
Albert McDonald
Commissioner,
Alabama Department of Agriculture

Mississippi Economic Council

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT AND GOVERNOR SUCCESSION

A national publication recently commented that the principal role of state governors in America today is economic development.

The focus on economic development as the most important work of a governor's office is prompted by a change in federal policy, a change which is backing federal government out of the business of providing massive aid for local and state governments and leaving economic advancement largely in the hands of a disadvantage.

This leaves Mississippi at something of a disadvantage. Economic development is a long-range effort; yet Mississippi presently doesn't allow for long-range effort.

The governor of the State of Mississippi is one of four governors in the nation who is restricted to one four-year term. This means any economic development effort organized, directed, and led by the governor of Mississippi is limited to a four-year period, then we start over.

All around us, however, other governors with whom we compete have the opportunity to develop and implement sustained economic growth policies and programs.

There's a good news.

We have a chance to change that. Mississippians will be voting in the Nov. 4 General Election on a constitutional amendment which will permit the governor to immediately succeed himself in office.

If the amendment is approved, Mississippi will be in a better position to compete with the other states economically.

There is another good feature about the amendment. Mississippians will be able to decide for themselves whether they want to reward a governor with a second term, or whether they want to make a change in the office. They don't have that option now.

Hawks score in final seconds, defeat Long Beach in thriller

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

In a tension-packed fourth quarter drive, the Hancock North Central Hawks overcame both physical and mental obstacles to score in the last seconds to defeat the Long Beach Bearcats.

Coming back with "a lot of heart," the Hawks regained momentum lost

CHARLES BURTON, halfback for the Hancock North Central Hawks, looks downfield for a receiver, following a pitch from Quarterback Brett Favre. A high catch by Delano Lewis made the play an 18-yard gain with a Hawk first and 10 on the Bearcat 16. (Staff photo by Brenda Heathcock) midway in the third quarter with the loss of Senior Halfback Charles Burton and broke a 22-22 tie with only 29 seconds left in the game.

Hancock Head Coach Irvin Favre said he couldn't be prouder of the way the players turned things around to maintain their undefeated record.

"Losing a top notch, exciting ballplayer like Burton can make the difference in the ball game and it is a credit to our team that they put things back together," he added. Favre believes Quarterback Brett Favre had probably one of his most productive football games ever.

"Favre did the job an experienced quarterback should do and really came through in the final drive of the game," he added.

He also gave Brett Favre credit for calling the right play to score. "I am glad he was sharp enough to select the right play, although I had called a different one," the coach added.

"With the assistance of linemen Marty Smith and Donald Anderson, Brett was able to go right into the endzone," Favre said.

Favre played much of the final drive of the game with cramps in both legs and collapsed on the field following his touchdown play.

"It wasn't just the last touchdown play that won the game but the final six minutes of the game that included clutch throws, outstanding runs and a great defensive stand," he continued.

Long Beach Defensive Coach Joey D'Angelo said he knew now why the Hawks were undefeated.

"We played as hard as we could and just couldn't win," he added.

Trouble for the Hawks in the game came mostly from 6'4", 215 pound Senior Tailback Robert Taylor.

"Taylor is an excellent player and towers above most of the Hawks," Favre said.

"We worked all week on a plan to stop him and it still didn't work," he added.

On their first possession of the game, runs by Charles Burton and Donald Vincent and a 21-yard pass reception by Frank Miller put the Hawks within scoring range.

On the next play Quarterback Brett Favre faked to his fullback then cut back over the left side and went in for six points on a brilliant 25-yard run.

A pass to Vincent Cuevas for the two-point conversion was incomplete.

A lengthy drive by the Bearcats took them inside the 10-yard line but the Hawk defense held strong and Hancock regained possession of the ball.

Gaining only one first down on the drive, the Hawks were forced to punt.

A Long Beach fumble returned the ball to the Hawks inside Bearcat territory after two plays.

Donald Vince picked up a first down for the Hawks with a 14-yard scamper.

Burton and Vince each rushed for one. Favre then pitched back to Burton who hit Delano Lewis with a perfect strike to move the Hawks to the Bearcat 16.

Vince again on the ball added 13 yards, giving the Hawks first and goal on the 3-yard line.

Favre hit Vincent Cuevas a couple of plays later with a 6-yard touchdown pass.

A loss from Favre to Casey Hoda added two points, giving the Hawks a 14-0 advantage.

An onside kick worked against the Hawks as Long Beach covered the ball and took possession on the 45-yard line.

The Bearcats quickly picked up four first downs and Robert Taylor took it in from five yards out for the touchdown.

Jeff Bringle kicked the extra point.

Burton shown on the next drive rushing four times for 35 yards, adding six on a pass reception and breaking loose for a 47-yard touchdown run.

Favre pitched the ball to Lewis in the endzone for the extra points. The Hawks now lead 22-7.

However momentum in the game shifted from the Hawks to Long Beach just a few plays later when Burton was thrown out of the game.

Two plays after Burton's ejection, Taylor scored on a 11-yard touchdown run.

The extra point kick was no good. The Hawks moved only six yards before punting and the Bearcats took over inside Hawk territory.

From this advantage, Long Beach moved downfield quickly and Taylor went into the endzone again.

Tim Salsberg added two points for Long Beach to tie the score, 22-22 with 11:55 in the fourth quarter.

Unsuccessful drives by both teams ate up several minutes on the clock and then the Hawks rallied to begin a drive from the Long Beach 41 and win the game.

Passes to Tim Cox and Miller added 17 and 12 yards respectively. Donald Vince gained 19 yards on three runs.

On a keeper play Favre advanced one yard and then sneaked the ball through to score with only 23 seconds left in the game.

Hawk coach said several people had commented on the "sloppy officiating" in the game.

"I was very disappointed in the officiating crew and thought the ejection of Burton was unnecessary," he added.

Favre said the penalty was called for spearing, or using the head as a weapon.

"I don't believe Burton did this intentionally but I see it time and time again almost every ball game and this is the first time to ever see a player ejected because of this call," he added.

Long Beach Coach Paul Magee agreed with Favre on the "sorry officiating" adding it was the worse he has seen in 27 years.

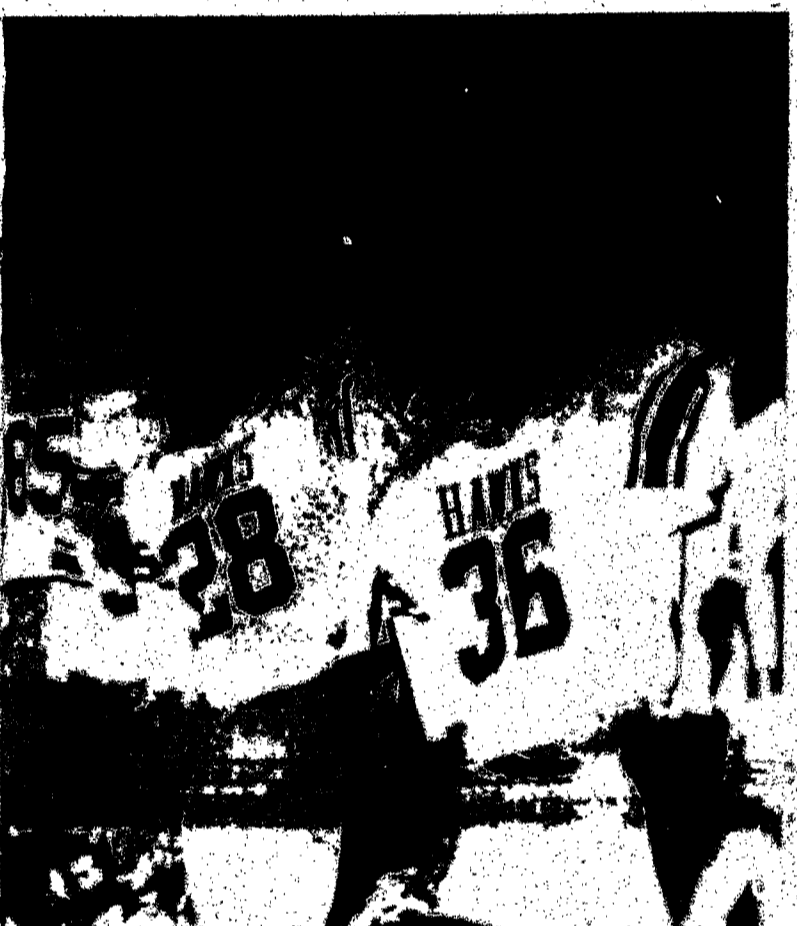

Favre complimented the fans for remaining calm enough during the tense moments and staying off the field.

In addition to costing the Hawks yardage, trouble from the fans have also caused the school to take on probation, he added.

Next week the Hawks will play their last home game of the season when they take on district rival George County.

USM athletics professor to address convention

HATTIESBURG—Coach J. Larry Ladner, an assistant professor of athletic administration and coaching at the University of Southern Mississippi, will speak during a Biloxi convention in November.

Ladner will address "Athletic Motivation" at the annual convention of the Mississippi Association of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance in Biloxi on Nov. 7.

Ladner, in addition, will have an article published in the October issue of the MAHPERD Journal. The article, "Philosophical Concepts of Shooting Free-Throws," examines the success or failure of situations while focusing on the major factors relative to winning or losing games.

Ladner said to ensure proficiency, free-throw practice should be an integral aspect of shooting practice. "Development of a shooting ritual is essential for players to become outstanding free-throw shooters," Ladner said.

Ladner, a native of Kiln, is the son of Mrs. Earl E. Ladner Sr. of Kiln. A former Picayune Memorial High School head coach, he is married to the former Peggy Ann Wilkoughby of Poplarville.

State's Homecoming events listed

Mississippi State University's 1986 Homecoming cranks up for a weeklong celebration Oct. 20-25, featuring the theme "Homecoming '86: The Experience of a Lifetime" and climaxing with a nationally televised football game.

The Oct. 25 football game between MSU and Auburn University was originally slated for a 6 p.m. kickoff, but a decision by ESPN to televise the contest changes the time to 6:30 p.m.

The week begins with the third annual Homecoming Cup promotion on the Drill Field. People may buy a special Homecoming cup at a soft drink stand manned by students.

This will continue throughout the week.

Planned for Oct. 21 is a concert by Barbara Mandrell at Humphrey Coliseum at 8 p.m. Tickets are $12.50 for students and $15 for non-students. It's sponsored by MSU's Music Makers.

The Friday before Homecoming

Tulane is next for Golden Eagles

HATTIESBURG—After enjoying the friendly atmosphere of Roberts Stadium and homecoming, the USM Golden Eagles must travel to New Orleans to face Tulane in the Superdome. The game is scheduled for a 7 p.m. kickoff, Oct. 26.

The record book shows USM with a slight edge in the series, 4-3. Head coach Jim Carmody led his USM squad to a 24-4 win last season over his alma mater.

Tulane has a high powered offense led by explosive quarterback Ter-rance Jones and receiver Marc Zeno. The two combine to form one of the top passing combinations in the South. The Green Wave also returns eight defensive starters from last season's club.

Carmody also has an explosive club, with quarterback Andrew Anderson leading the way. Tailback Vincent Alexander heads a tough troop of running backs who carry the load offensively for the Eagles. On the other side of the ball, it is the linebacking duo of Onesimus Henry and Sidney Coleman that causes major concern for opposing running backs.

Saturday's game can be heard on the Golden Eagle Radio Network with John Cox handling the play-by-play and Vic Parvis the color commentary.

Tickets to the Tulane game and other games (road and home) are available from the athletic ticket office located in Green Coliseum, call 601/266-5418 or use the in-state toll free number, 1-800-222-1006.

Pass Christian loses 19-13 to Blue Devils

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Pass Christian High School Pirates ended Friday's game about a touchdown short, losing to the homecoming Pearl River Central Blue Devils 19-13.

Pass Christian started out strong, wasting no time as they scored on their first drive.

Shinell Conway grabbed the ball and raced around the side for a touchdown and 13 yards.

Conway followed his run with a PAT kick, giving the Pirates a 7-0 lead with 8:45 left in the first quarter.

The Blue Devils, full of homecoming spirit, retaliated on the next series, turning the ball over to Eric Nixon who pushed to the Pirate two yard line.

Nixon plunged over on the next play for the touchdown.

The attempt for a PAT was wide left, and Pass Christian held a one-point lead with 3:02 remaining in the first stanza.

The Pirates opened second quarter play with series of running plays, moving the ball down to the Blue Devil two yard line.

The Pirates handed off to Conway again, who dashed through a host of Blue Devils for a touchdown. Pass Christian led 13-0 with about 11 minutes left in the first half.

The Pirates attempted a two-point conversion on a pass play. It dropped incomplete and the score remained at 13-0.

The Blue Devil's next drive was halted by the Pirates, but Pearl River Central stole the ball back by intercepting a Pirate pass on the Pass Christian 26.

Nixon jumped up to catch the ball and hit the ground running, not stopping until he had crossed the goal line to rack up six more points for the Blue Devils.

A missed PAT left Pass Christian one point ahead at 13-12 with about five minutes remaining in the half.

In second half action, Pearl River Central received the kick and went airborne, scoring on a 30-yard pass from Cedric Tillman to Nixon.

Berry McCormick added a point with a kick, turning the lead over to the Blue Devils with a score of 19-13 with 4:01 in the third quarter.

The fourth quarter was a defensive battle for both teams and no points were given up on either side, allowing the Blue Devils to take a 19-13 homecoming victory.

According to Pirate Head Coach Alton Wright, Pass Christian played well but failed to stop one of the Blue Devils' key players.

"We didn't stop the big boy; we didn't stop (Raymond) Spiers," Wright said.

Although Spiers did not score Friday, he set up many of Pearl River Central's crucial plays.

"Spiers is good on the veer, the diver and the outside veer. He gave us trouble," the coach added.

"We changed our game plan too. We went to the split backs and the veer. We used Horace Lizana more, because he's not as good at throwing but he works well on the veer. That helped them a little."

"We did best running the outside veer off tackle. That was our best offense for this game."

"Defensively, they did a super job against us. We had Tim Morrell hurt and he was one of our most important men offensively and defensively."

The Pirates were also missing Derrick Benoit and John Lizana, both injured. Wright said he hopes to have them both back next week when Pass Christian hosts Vancleave.

"Quorum" cited as a model for legislative coverage

The National Conference of State Legislatures has chosen Mississippi ETV's "Quorum" series as a model for television coverage of a state legislature.

"Quorum" is a weekly, hour-long program featuring a moderator and four legislators talking about the week's lawmaking news during the first half hour and then taking statewide phone calls from viewers during the second half.

Two senators and two representatives comprise the panel each week on ETV, usually on one particular topic from the respective committees in the House and in the Senate. The chairman and vice-chairmen of these committees usually are the panel members.

This year's annual meeting of the NCSL will show a program from the "Quorum" series to its delegates.

"Quorum" premiered on Mississippi ETV in January 1975 and is run each year during the months the Legislature is in session.

In noting "Quorum" as a model, the NCSL said that Mississippi ETV's legislative panel represents the most cost-effective treatment of such a production. This latest recognition represents the third time "Quorum" has been singled out by the NCSL as an example of outstanding television coverage of a state legislature. The NCSL was created from a merger of three different legislative organizations. It thus became the official representative of America's 7,500 state lawmakers and their staffs.

"We are honored that our 'Quorum' series has been recognized by the NCSL," said Lee Morris, executive director of the Mississippi Authority for Educational Television. "Quorum" represents good use of state funds because the series serves the citizens of our state by keeping them informed."

SSC drops homecoming heartbreaker to Riverdale

It was a clear, crisp Friday night made for football as hundreds of SSC graduates filled the stands to watch their Rockchaws tangle with the Riverdale Rebels of Metairie who came into the game with a 4-2 record.

It was also a night of squandered opportunities to score for SSC, as they penetrated inside the Riverdale ten yard line three times and came away empty.

The performance of split end Freddie Wirstrom was one that those attending the game will remember for a long time. Wirstrom singlehandedly tried to keep the Rockchaws in the game with one spectacular catch after another, mostly between two or three defenders.

First quarter action indicated that the game would be close. Riverdale was stopped on the SSC 42 yard. The Rebels elected to go for the first down facing a fourth and one situation, but the Rock defense stiffened and SSC took over.

The Rocks were unable to mount a drive and had to punt. Rob Betcher's punt was blocked by Ray Hummel and Riverdale recovered on the SSC 22 yard line.

Halfback Bernie Depew brought the ball down to the one yard line, and took the ball off right tackle for the first score on the next play. The extra point was blocked and Riverdale led 6-0.

SSC came back on its next possession as Jack Simpson returned the kickoff to his 34 yard line.

SSC's first scoring drive began with a 13 yard pass completion to Freddie Wirstrom, and four plays later Yasin Shabazz threw a 35 yard touchdown pass to Wirstrom. Betcher's extra point was good and the Rocks led 7-6.

Riverdale came right back to answer the challenge with quarterback Richard Everett bootlegging the ball around his left end, then stopping to throw across the field to split end Chris Delrey. A missed assignment by cornerback Jorge Ponjuan left Delrey all alone in the secondary. This touchdown, along with the two point conversion run by Todd Strickland made the score Riverdale 14-7.

Brett Boudreaux took Riverdale's kickoff back to his 40 yard line. The Rocks drove down to the Riverdale 13 yard line, but linebacker Chris Walker intercepted a tipped pass from quarterback Shannon Garrett and the Rebels took over.

It took Riverdale seven plays to travel 82 yards for their next score. The extra point by Bernie Dupuy was wide left and Riverdale led 20-7 as the half ended.

SSC exercised their option to receive to start the second half. Dupuy's kick bounced in front of SSC deep back Gino Ascani. Ascani let the ball roll dead in front of him, thinking that the rules of punting apply on kickoffs. A host of Riverdale's kickoff team pounced on the ball lying on the SSC 10 yard line.

Riverdale was unable to punch in a score as the Rock defense rose to the challenge. After gaining only two yards on three tries, the Rebels settled for a 28 yard field goal by Bernie Dupuy to increase their lead to 23-7 with 8:37 left to play in the game.

The Rocks began to sustain a drive that brought them into Rebel territory. Facing a fourth and six situation, SSC quarterback Shannon Garrett kept the ball around his right end for a 23 yard gain down deep to the Riverdale 24 yard line.

Another Rockchaw miscue gave the ball back to the Rebels as halfback Yasin Shabazz fumbled and the ball was picked up by Riverdale's Tommy Lee.

Riverdale gave the ball back to SSC as they attempted to run a reverse and the fumbled ball was recovered by linebacker David Diboll on the Riverdale 35 yard line.

SSC wasted no time as Shabazz completed a deep pass to Freddie Wirstrom at the Riverdale 12 yard line. After an incomplete pass on first down, the Rocks tried to drive the ball in, but were stopped on the two yard line by a swarming Rebel defense.

Again hard-hitting by the SSC defense forced another fumble at the Riverdale 28 yard line, with guard Jose Lau recovering the ball.

On one of the nicest plays of the evening, Garrett threw a deep pass to split end Freddie Wirstrom who came between three Riverdale defenders to make the catch on the three yard line.

Halfback Jack Simpson scored two plays later and Betcher's extra point was again good, and the Rocks tightened the score to 23-14 with over nine minutes to play in the game.

Riverdale returned the kickoff to their 42 yard line but could not mount a drive. Ya-Sin Shabazz fielded the Riverdale punt on his 18 yard line and returned it to the Riverdale 46 yard line.

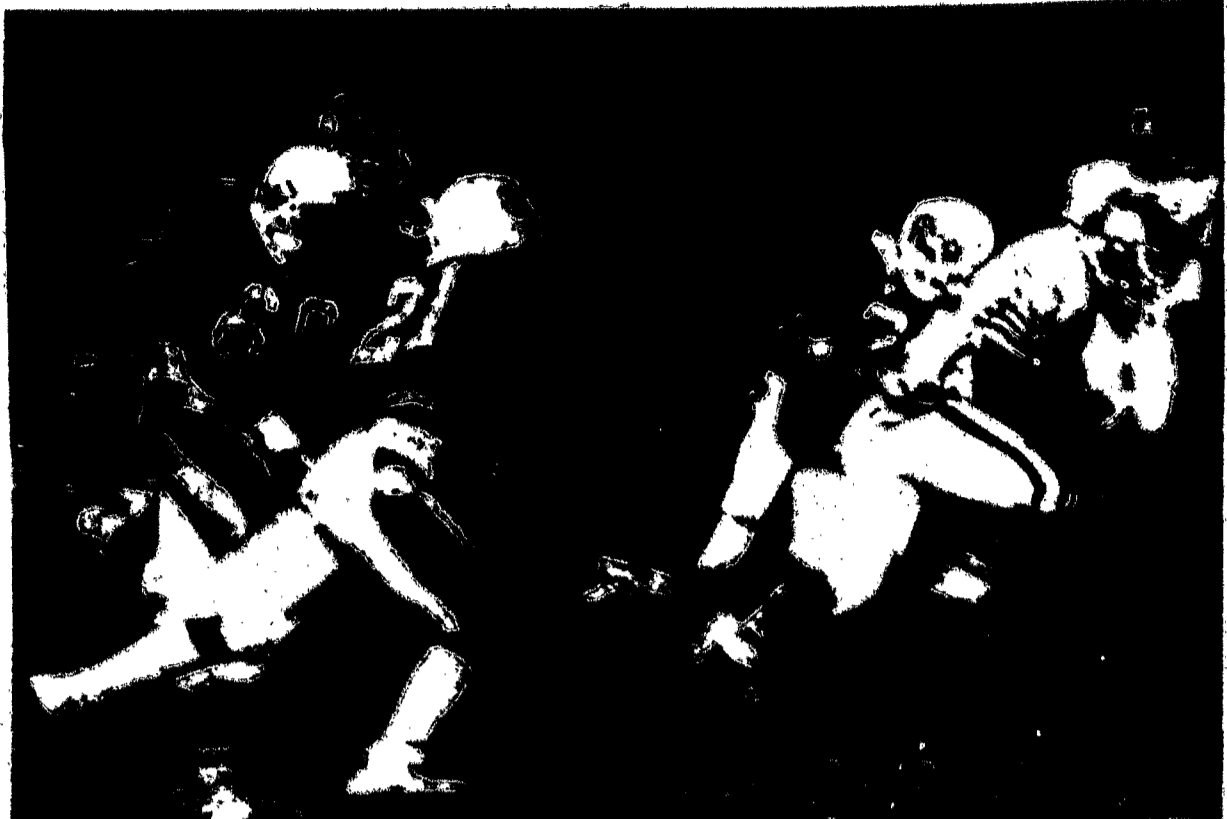

A pass from Shabazz to Wirstrom (his seventh of the contest) gave the Rocks a first down on the Riverdale 12 yard line. A facemask penalty on Riverdale brought the ball down to the six yard line.

The Rocks offensive line seemed to be controlling the line of scrimmage at this point. A halfback dive by Shabazz brought the ball to the four.

Garrett then attempted a look-in pass to Wirstrom who had double coverage on the play. The Riverdale safety had excellent position and intercepted the pass stopping another SSC scoring opportunity.

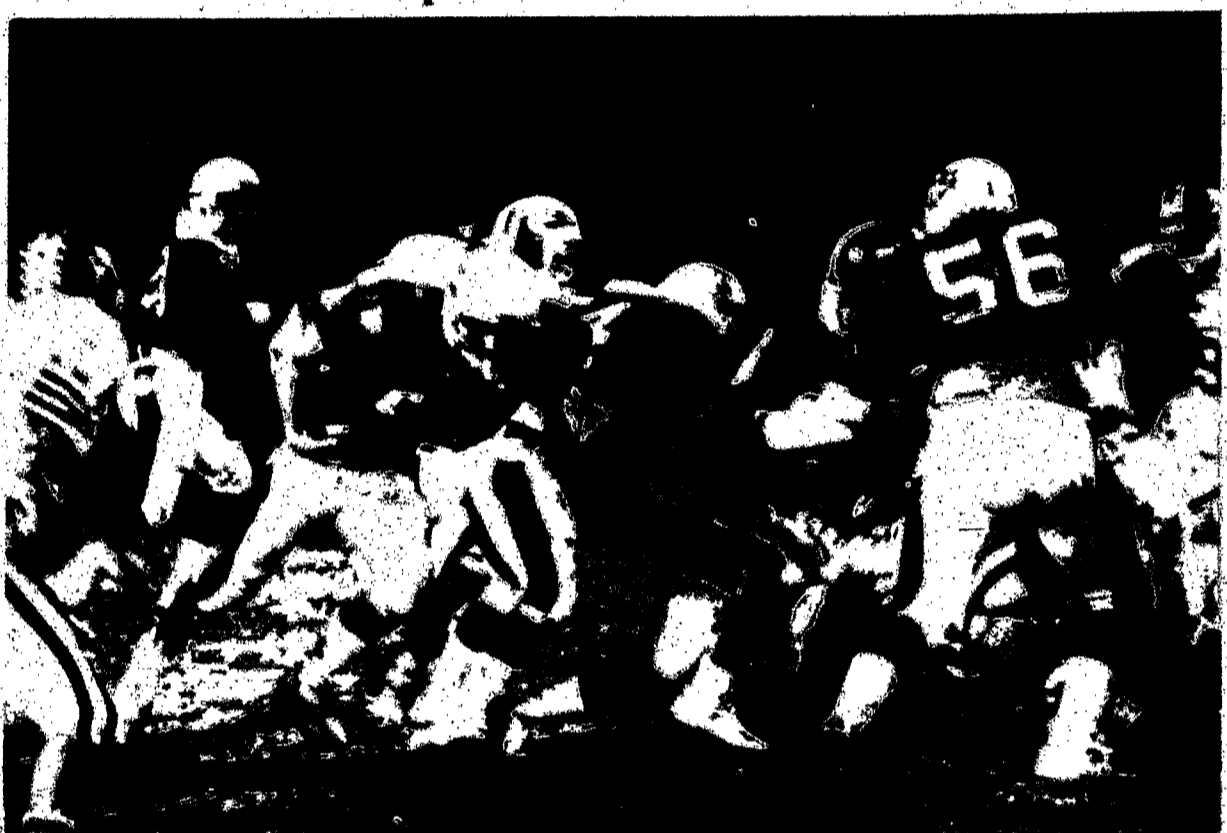

At this point the clock showed 2:31 and Riverdale was content to run out the clock and secure a 23-14 victory.

Next week the Rocks, 0-6, travel to East Central Friday night to tangle with the Hornets. East Central is also winless in six outings.

Coast Electric's recovery from Hurricane Elena highlighted at annual meet.

Coast Electric Power Association is a growing viable business, rapidly moving through a period of adversity, change and accomplishment.

The impact of this transition was highlighted by General Manager Robert Occhi in his keynote address to the members attending the cooperative's annual membership meeting Oct. 17.

Occhi reviewed the occurrences of the past 18 months and revealed their effect on the operation of the association.

"The adversity experienced by your cooperative came in numerous forms," he stated.

"There was Hurricane Elena; a summer with a record heat wave that increased our demand by 20 percent; and lightning storms that have been more severe than felt by this area in 12 years," commented Occhi.

The association has seen numerous changes during 1986. Occhi expressed his commitment and that of the board of directors to "keep the cooperative second to none."

"We realize that you can't get better unless you change," stated Occhi. "We have moved the cooperative from centralized to decentralized operations. Now, branch offices in Piquette and Gulfport operate as full-service facilities. Members receive construction, engineering and warehouse services that complement the existing service and maintenance activities," he added.

Coast Electric members were advised of three new services that are now offered by the association. The extended Due Date, the Equalized Payment Plan and the Electric-Charge Program were introduced by Occhi.

"These new programs came about because the members have told us this was what they wanted," he stated. "And for Coast Electric, being responsive to the needs of our members is what being a cooperative is all about," he continued.

Occhi reassured Coast members that the system had fully recovered from Hurricane Elena, an accomplishment that required outstanding effort by a dedicated staff.

Additionally, Occhi reported to date, the employees had constructed over 60 miles of new line; connected over 9,000 meters; provided electric service to almost 2,000 new members; and read over 300,000 meters.

Growth and development of Coast Electric's service areas have required several construction projects. Occhi announced the completion of a new substation in Nicholson; the expansion of the substation serving Borg-Warner's Hancock County facility; and a new substation in Bay St. Louis that will accommodate the new hospital.

Also, Occhi stated the cooperative has created policies that promote continued economic growth of local communities.

"At Coast Electric, we believe that the three most important things we can provide our membership are first, service; second, service; and third, service," he commented.

"We will continue to improve our efficiency and performance, not so we can increase our rates, but so we can give you, the members, the best possible service at the lowest possible cost," he concluded.

Gordon Lee, president of the board, told the meeting, "As member-owners, you have a right and responsibility to learn more about how the operation of the co-op affects you. I congratulate you for taking the time to become actively involved."

Lee announced that Coast Electric members who received service during 1984 will be issued capital credit refunds. "Your system was virtually destroyed last year by Hurricane Elena. Yet, despite this disaster, it is with pleasure that I announce this December, your cooperative will return over $237,000 in capital credits," advised Lee.

The IBMA, a worldwide trade organization, was established in 1966 for the purpose of furthering the interests of bluegrass music.

The IBMA Radio Committee has 15 members representing radio stations around the world. The Radio Committee serves in an advisory capacity to help bluegrass programmers overcome problems and advance radio programming of bluegrass music.

Morgan, director of PRM and producer of PRM's "Grass Roots," began his association with bluegrass radio programming in Sept. 1979 when he produced and engineered "Bluegrass Review" at public radio station KOSU-FM in Stillwater, Okla.

Mother, son reunited after 38-year separation

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
"It's a miracle."

At least that is what Doris Casanova calls her recent reunion with her son Frank, after a separation of 38 years.

"It seems like a dream come true," she said through tears.

Doris Casanova and son, Frank Easley, together for the first time since 1948

Mrs. Casanova of Bay St. Louis and her son Frank of Herrman, Tenn. met Wednesday for the first time since 1948 when she was forced due to an extensive illness to put Frank in her father's care.

At that time Mrs. Casanova, recently divorced and ill, also agreed to give her father, James Knight, legal guardianship for one-year-old Frank and his two-year-old sister Beverly.

"I agreed because I thought he was going to keep both of the children together," she said.

Unknown to Mrs. Casanova, her father and stepmother allowed a childless couple to adopt Frank.

"I have been searching for the last 38 years for my son," Mrs. Casanova said.

Several times during her search for Frank, Mrs. Casanova said she would get close only to have every source of information close up.

"It was like continually walking into a brick wall, no one would tell me how to find Frank," she added.

Mrs. Casanova said the adoptive parents were relatives of her stepmother and would not let Frank see his natural mother.

"They were so enthusiastic over having a child and were afraid he would want to be with me if he saw me," she said.

Mrs. Casanova regained guardianship of Beverly a couple of years after the initial separation.

According to Mrs. Casanova, she has spent thousands of dollars in the past 38 years trying to locate Frank.

Mrs. Casanova's only clues were the last name of the adoptive parents and the fact that he was still called Frank.

Recently while visiting an elderly aunt in Texas, Mrs. Casanova was able to learn the location of Frank's adoptive parents.

During a stopover in Houston, Texas, Mrs. Casanova's daughter-in-law Ann began calling all the numbers for persons with Frank's adoptive father's name in the Houston suburb where he was supposedly living.

Mrs. Casanova said she was glad Ann didn't listen when she told her to stop wasting so much money on phone calls.

The phone calls paid off and Ann was able to locate Frank's adoptive father who "readily supplied Frank's phone number in Tennessee."

Immediately following their return to Bay St. Louis, Ann had her husband, Joe Casanova, one of four children from Mrs. Casanova's second marriage, call his half-brother.

"Shock and disbelief" were the reactions of Frank Easley upon learning the that his natural mother and sister were alive and wanted to see him.

"For so long I have lived as an only child and suddenly I have a sister, four brothers and many nieces and nephews," Easley said.

Mrs. Casanova is planning to get all of her family together around Thanksgiving.

"But I don't know if I can wait that long to see the five grandchildren I just learned about," she said.

REUNION—Several members of Doris Casanova's family got together last week to greet their brother, Frank Easley, third from left, for the first time in 38 years. Present were, seated from left, L. J. ### DAV Unit No. 50 Auxiliary

By Dr. Esther Oschmann
Americanism Chairman

The regular meeting of the Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary No. 50 was conducted Tuesday, Oct. 7 at 7 p.m. at the DAV Home on Union Street. Mrs. Hazel Wohlschlegel, first vice commander, presided in the absence of Commander Debbie Netto.

The meeting was conducted according to the rituals with Chaplain Sylvia Moran giving the opening prayer and Pledge of Allegiance to The Flag led by Mrs. Genevieve Cole.

The members voted to donate to a booths at the VA hospital carnival on Wednesday at 6 p.m. in Gulfport.

Dr. Esther Oschmann, judge advocate, announced that according to auxiliary constitution and by-laws, when an officer is absent for three consecutive meetings she will be relieved of her office.

Therefore, Mrs. Hazel Wohlschlegel, first vice commander, steps up to commander; Mrs. Jean Garcia, second vice commander, steps up to first vice commander; and Mrs. Dorothy Tate was elected to second vice commander. Mrs. Joan Mitchell was elected unit executive committee woman.

These new officers took their oaths of office.

Commander Wohlschlegel made the following appointments: Mrs. Dorothy Tate, membership chairman; Mrs. Lou Wilkerson; legislative chairman; Dr. Esther Oschmann; Americanism chairman; Mrs. Genevieve Cole; community services chairman; Mrs. Nell Sanford, hospital chairman; Dr. Esther Oschmann, publicity chairman; Mrs. Lena Ladner, conductress; and Mrs. Bea Gaddy, guard.

Commander Wohlschlegel announced that there will be special ceremonies for burning the mortgage on the DAV Home which is now paid in full at the regular meeting night, Nov. 4 at 7 p.m.

Each member is requested to bring a covered dish for refreshments. Dr. Oschmann reminds members and friends that Tuesday, Nov. 4 is election day. As an American, it is your right, your privilege, your duty and your responsibility to vote.

Another special day is Tuesday, Nov. 11, Veterans Day. Originally called Armistice Day, the holiday was instituted on Nov. 11, 1918 to celebrate the Armistice ending World War I. In 1954 it was changed to Veterans Day.

The principal observance of Veterans Day appropriately takes place at Arlington National Cemetery. Veterans groups are responsible, of course, for many of the day's events which have a common theme, paying homage to the hundreds of thousands of men and women who have fought to defend their country and its allies and have devoted their efforts to the preservation of freedom.

Be sure to display your flag. It would be a wonderful sight to see a flag flying at every home in our county.

Remember, our purpose "to realize the true American ideals and aims for which those eligible for membership in Disabled American Veterans and the Auxiliary, fought."

All members are urged to take part in the Veterans Day parade and those having cars, be sure to take part in this patriotic event. "God Bless America."

REAL VIEWS ON REAL ESTATE

REAL ESTATE: STILL A GOOD INVESTMENT
Q: With little inflation during the past three years and with the proposed changes in the tax law, how does real estate stack up with other investment opportunities? R.W., McComb

A: Dear R.W.:
Investors today face a wide variety of options as they decide how to allocate their dollars available for investment purposes. However, regardless of the investor or the amount of money he or she has to invest, there still remains one constant: How much risk is acceptable to the investor in return for the anticipated return?

Most investors want little or no risk. As a result, they turn to fixed-income investment vehicles such as Treasury bills, certificates of deposit, money market accounts and other instruments that lock in an interest rate while offering a safe and predictable stream of income during the holding period of the investment. The price paid for safety and liquidity, however, reflected by a seemingly low return, especially during a time when there is little inflation.

For those investors willing to assume a somewhat greater risk, there is a potential for greater gain.

Such investment opportunities often take the form of a limited partnership in which investors pool their dollars to buy real estate, oil or gas wells, cable television operations or jet airplanes to be placed into service through a leasing arrangement.

Among these investment alternatives, real estate continues to remain the overwhelming favorite. Over the past two years this has been partly true due to changing economic conditions and because of real estate's long history of producing real returns that outperform most economic indicators.

As a potential investor you should continue to think of real estate as a sound investment outlet and look at real estate opportunities before making your investment decisions.

HELP WHERE YOU NEED IT MOST.

Your pocketbook The New Delchamps has help—with pricing that's absolutely lower on every item, every day. It means we're doing business in a whole new way. A more honest way.

It's called Everyday Minimum Pricing, and it means Delchamps customers have already discovered they have the minimum total food bill every week. That's because we've introduced

EVERYDAY MINIMUM PRICING
ABSOLUTELY LOWER PRICING! S.M.

At the New Delchamps we don't have weekly specials. We don't have double coupons, games or gimmicks—they just keep your total food bill high. We DO have pricing that's absolutely lower on every item, every day. So you get the minimum total food bill. Every week.
